CONTRACT USER GUIDE
ARCHITECTURAL and ENGINEERING SERVICES
MASTER PRICE AGREEMENT #494
CONTRACT TERM: 3/1/14- 2/28/17

BACKGROUND:

The Division of Purchases issued RFP #7537383 for Architectural and Engineering Services on December 2, 2013. Fifty firms submitted proposals on December 30, 2013 for multiple architectural and engineering disciplines, including Civil, Architectural, Mechanical, Structural, Electrical, Plumbing, and Fire Alarm/ Fire Suppression Systems. Purchase orders are issued to 48 firms for a variety of disciplines. Rankings are provided for each of the disciplines. Renewal Options have been exercised.

CONTRACT SUMMARY:

This Master Price Agreement includes qualified firms to provide design services on an “as needed” basis for individual projects for Architectural and/or Engineering (A/E) Services. The MPA is intended to service smaller short-term projects (see caps below).

PROJECT PHASES:

The Project Phases Guide provided as “Attachment A” details the “project phases” typical of small to medium scale projects for which Architectural and Engineering Services may be provided under MPA #494.

WHO CAN USE THIS CONTRACT

STATEWIDE APPLICABILITY - Political Subdivisions (cities, towns, schools, quasi-public agencies), as authorized by law, may participate in this Agreement. All ordering and billing shall be between the vendor and the political subdivision (only).

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE BY STATE AGENCIES:

The state agency will obtain a minimum of three written responsive quotes from pre-qualified MPA-494 vendors for a lump sum fixed-fee for a specific project. Therefore, agencies should not request a technical and cost evaluation when requesting a quote. Requests for quotation should include a clear description of the project, its size, complexity, time schedule and any special requirements. [See the sample Request for Quote provided as “Attachment B”.] With the exception of the Architectural and Civil, agencies should make every effort to request quotes from all firms within the designated lead discipline. The specialty disciplines and associated tasks are described below in “Disciplines.” Agencies should examine the different descriptions to determine the most appropriate lead discipline for any project. When obtaining quotes from the Architectural discipline agencies should solicit quotes from the two minority business firms.

Approved vendor rate structure pricing for hourly rates for the three primary roles in each qualifying discipline is attached to each purchase order. These rates can be used as a guide when vendors submit their lump sum fixed-fee quotes, and do not replace the requirement to use lump sum fixed-fee arrangement; hourly rates for primary and secondary roles will be utilized by the agencies in verifying progress payments, and in establishing appropriate compensation due to the vendor in the event the project is abandoned.

Proposals shall also include a matrix of all proposed personnel roles, and their total project involvement (in hours). These hours, when multiplied by the hourly rates provided by the vendor, shall total the lump-sum fixed fee quote submitted. Progress billings will include documentation of units of service provided at the agreed rates.

Quotes shall be solicited with a stated deadline for submission of the quotation. The MPA includes a minimum of seven, and up to twenty qualified vendors in each of the seven design disciplines. Vendor rankings are attached; the ranking is based on a combination of technical qualifications and pricing. When soliciting quotes, sufficient vendors shall be solicited to generate three responsive lump sum fixed fee quotes.

The Division of Purchases recommends lowest responsive, responsible bidder; however, if an agency does not select the low bidder, the agency must prepare a written justification to the Division of Purchases and receive approval from the Division prior to proceeding with the notification letter.

There is a $50,000 cap for any specific project. Above $50,000 and up to $150,000, projects are subject to prior written approval by the Division of Purchases. Projects expected to exceed $150,000 must be solicited as a Request for Proposal.

The state agency will send a notification letter [See the sample notification letter provided as "Attachment C".] to the recommended vendor in which the following information is requested:

- An agreement outlining the scope and special terms & conditions covering the work, executed by both the Agency Chief Executive and the vendor's authorized agent. No work or services shall be performed by an MPA-494 vendor for a user agency project until issuance of a purchase order by the Division of Purchases.
- A completed Minority Business Enterprise Plan.
- Equal Employment Opportunity Compliance Certificates & Agreements and Certificates of Insurance are on file for each awarded vendor and do not require restatement. Insurance minimum limits of coverage are as follows:

Comprehensive General Liability Insurance: covering bodily injury, and property damage in a form and with coverage that are satisfactory to the State. Including personal and advertising injury liability, independent contractors, products completed operations, contractual liability and broad form property damage coverage. Coverage shall be written on an occurrence basis. A combined single limit of $1,000,000 per occurrence and aggregate is required for bodily injury, and a combined single limit of $500,000 per occurrence and aggregate.

Auto Liability Insurance: covering all owned, non-owned, or hired vehicles. A combined single limit per occurrence of $1,000,000 will be obtained.

Workers Compensation and Employers Liability: in compliance with the compensation laws of the State of Rhode Island. Coverage shall include Employers Liability Insurance with minimum limits of $100,000 each accident, $500,000 disease or policy limit, $100,000 each employee.

There shall be no cancellation, material change, potential exhaustion of aggregate limits or non-renewal without thirty days (30) written notice from the contractor or its insurer(s). Failure to comply with the reporting provisions of this clause shall be grounds for immediate termination of any contract issued pursuant to MPA-494.

When the above information has been obtained, the state agency will send the following documentation to the Division of Purchases and request that a purchase order be issued:

- A Zero Dollar Requisition to Include Project Amount as a text attachment internal to the requisition.
- Scope of Work
- Three responsive quotes received, plus identification of other quotes solicited and result
- Memorandum Signed by Agency Summarizing Responses and Recommending Vendor
- Copy of notification letter*
- Copy of signed project agreement
- MBE Compliance for the project engagement.*

*These documents are posted in “Agency Information” Center – Division of Purchases website, “MPA-494 Folder”.

Project Phases Guide - Small to Medium Scale

The following information is provided as a guide for project phases typical of small to medium scale projects for which Architectural and Engineering Services may be provided under MPA#494

Schematic Design Phase:

During the first phase—schematic design—a vendor consults with the owner to determine project goals and requirements. Often this determines the program for the project.

The program is the term used to define the required functions of the project. It should include estimated square footage of each usage type and any other elements that achieve the project goals.

During schematic design, a vendor commonly develops study drawings, documents, or other media that illustrate the concepts of the design and include spatial relationships, scale, and form for the owner to review. Schematic design also is the research phase of the project, when zoning requirements, jurisdictional restrictions, and building and fire code issues are discovered and addressed.

This phase produces a final schematic design, to which the owner agrees after consultation and discussions with the vendor. Costs may be estimated based on overall project volume. The design then moves forward to the design development phase.

Deliverables: Schematic design often produces a site plan, floor plan(s), sections, an elevation, and other illustrative materials; computer images, renderings, or models. Typically the drawings include overall dimensions, and a construction cost may be estimated.

Design Development Phase “DD”:

Design development services use the initial design documents from the schematic phase and take them one step further. This phase lays out mechanical, electrical, plumbing, structural, and architectural details.

Typically referred to as DD, this phase results in drawings that often specify design elements such as material types and location of windows and doors, etc. The level of detail provided in the DD phase is determined by the owner’s request and the project requirements. The DD phase often ends with a presentation to, and approval by, the owner.

Deliverables: Design development often produces floor plans, sections, and elevations with full dimensions. These drawings typically include door and window details and outline material specifications.

Construction Documentation Phase “CD”:

Once the owner and vendor are satisfied with the documents produced during DD, the vendor moves forward and produces drawings with greater detail. These drawings typically include specifications for construction details and materials.

Once Construction Documents (CDs) are satisfactorily produced, the vendor delivers the stamped, signed documents to the owner, for permitting and bidding. The level of detail in CDs may vary depending on the owner’s preference. If the CD set is not 100-percent complete, this should be noted on the CD set when it is sent out for bid. This phase results in the contractors’ final estimate of project costs

Deliverables: The construction document phase produces a set of drawings that include all pertinent information required for a contractor to price and build the project.

Bid or Negotiation Phase:

The first step of this phase is preparation of the bid documents to go out for public bid. The bid document set includes an advertisement for bids, instructions to bidders, the bid form, bid documents, the owner-contractor agreement, labor and material payment bond, and any other sections necessary for successful price bids. For some projects that have unique aspects or complex requirements, the owner will have a mandatory prebid meeting for potential contractors.

The owner, with the help of the vendor (if required), evaluates the bids and selects a winning bid. Deliverables: The final deliverable is a construction contract.

Construction Administration Phase “CA”:

Construction administration (CA) services are rendered at the owner’s discretion and should be outlined in the owner-vendor agreement. Different owner-vendor-contractor agreements require different levels of services on the vendor’s part. CA services begin with the initial contract for construction and terminate when the final certificate of payment is issued.

The vendor’s core responsibility during this phase is to help the contractor to build the project as specified in the CDs as approved by the owner. Questions may arise on site that require the vendor to develop sketches or respond to requests for information (RFIs). Different situations may require a Change Order to complete the project.

Deliverables: A successfully built and contracted project.

the most appropriate lead discipline for any project. When obtaining quotes from the Architectural discipline agencies should solicit quotes from the two minority business firms.

Approved vendor rate structure pricing for hourly rates for the three primary roles in each qualifying discipline is attached to each purchase order. These rates can be used as a guide when vendors submit their lump sum fixed-fee quotes, and do not replace the requirement to use lump sum fixed-fee arrangement; hourly rates for primary and secondary roles will be utilized by the agencies in verifying progress payments, and in establishing appropriate compensation due to the vendor in the event the project is abandoned.

Proposals shall also include a matrix of all proposed personnel roles, and their total project involvement (in hours). These hours, when multiplied by the hourly rates provided by the vendor, shall total the lump-sum fixed fee quote submitted. Progress billings will include documentation of units of service provided at the agreed rates.

Quotes shall be solicited with a stated deadline for submission of the quotation. The MPA includes a minimum of seven, and up to twenty qualified vendors in each of the seven design disciplines. Vendor rankings are attached; the ranking is based on a combination of technical qualifications and pricing. When soliciting quotes, sufficient vendors shall be solicited to generate three responsive lump sum fixed fee quotes.

The Division of Purchases recommends lowest responsive, responsible bidder; however, if an agency does not select the low bidder, the agency must prepare a written justification to the Division of Purchases and receive approval from the Division prior to proceeding with the notification letter.

There is a $50,000 cap for any specific project. Above $50,000 and up to $150,000, projects are subject to prior written approval by the Division of Purchases. Projects expected to exceed $150,000 must be solicited as a Request for Proposal.

The state agency will send a notification letter [See the sample notification letter provided as "Attachment C".] to the recommended vendor in which the following information is requested:

- An agreement outlining the scope and special terms & conditions covering the work, executed by both the Agency Chief Executive and the vendor's authorized agent. No work or services shall be performed by an MPA-494 vendor for a user agency project until issuance of a purchase order by the Division of Purchases.
- A completed Minority Business Enterprise Plan.
- Equal Employment Opportunity Compliance Certificates & Agreements and Certificates of Insurance are on file for each awarded vendor and do not require restatement. Insurance minimum limits of coverage are as follows:

Comprehensive General Liability Insurance: covering bodily injury, and property damage in a form and with coverage that are satisfactory to the State. Including personal and advertising injury liability, independent contractors, products completed operations, contractual liability and broad form property damage coverage. Coverage shall be written on an occurrence basis. A combined single limit of $1,000,000 per occurrence and aggregate is required for bodily injury, and a combined single limit of $500,000 per occurrence and aggregate.

Auto Liability Insurance: covering all owned, non-owned, or hired vehicles. A combined single limit per occurrence of $1,000,000 will be obtained.

Workers Compensation and Employers Liability: in compliance with the compensation laws of the State of Rhode Island. Coverage shall include Employers Liability Insurance with minimum limits of $100,000 each accident, $500,000 disease or policy limit, $100,000 each employee.

There shall be no cancellation, material change, potential exhaustion of aggregate limits or non-renewal without thirty days (30) written notice from the contractor or its insurer(s). Failure to comply with the reporting provisions of this clause shall be grounds for immediate termination of any contract issued pursuant to MPA-494.

When the above information has been obtained, the state agency will send the following documentation to the Division of Purchases and request that a purchase order be issued:

- A Zero Dollar Requisition to Include Project Amount as a text attachment internal to the requisition.
- Scope of Work
- Three responsive quotes received, plus identification of other quotes solicited and result
- Memorandum Signed by Agency Summarizing Responses and Recommending Vendor
- Copy of notification letter*
- Copy of signed project agreement
- MBE Compliance for the project engagement.*

Project Phases Guide - Small to Medium Scale

The following information is provided as a guide for project phases typical of small to medium scale projects for which Architectural and Engineering Services may be provided under MPA#494

Schematic Design Phase:

During the first phase—schematic design—a vendor consults with the owner to determine project goals and requirements. Often this determines the program for the project.

The program is the term used to define the required functions of the project. It should include estimated square footage of each usage type and any other elements that achieve the project goals.

During schematic design, a vendor commonly develops study drawings, documents, or other media that illustrate the concepts of the design and include spatial relationships, scale, and form for the owner to review. Schematic design also is the research phase of the project, when zoning requirements, jurisdictional restrictions, and building and fire code issues are discovered and addressed.

This phase produces a final schematic design, to which the owner agrees after consultation and discussions with the vendor. Costs may be estimated based on overall project volume. The design then moves forward to the design development phase.

Deliverables: Schematic design often produces a site plan, floor plan(s), sections, an elevation, and other illustrative materials; computer images, renderings, or models. Typically the drawings include overall dimensions, and a construction cost may be estimated.

Design Development Phase “DD”:

Design development services use the initial design documents from the schematic phase and take them one step further. This phase lays out mechanical, electrical, plumbing, structural, and architectural details.

Typically referred to as DD, this phase results in drawings that often specify design elements such as material types and location of windows and doors, etc. The level of detail provided in the DD phase is determined by the owner’s request and the project requirements. The DD phase often ends with a presentation to, and approval by, the owner.

Deliverables: Design development often produces floor plans, sections, and elevations with full dimensions. These drawings typically include door and window details and outline material specifications.

Construction Documentation Phase “CD”:

Once the owner and vendor are satisfied with the documents produced during DD, the vendor moves forward and produces drawings with greater detail. These drawings typically include specifications for construction details and materials.

Once Construction Documents (CDs) are satisfactorily produced, the vendor delivers the stamped, signed documents to the owner, for permitting and bidding. The level of detail in CDs may vary depending on the owner’s preference. If the CD set is not 100-percent complete, this should be noted on the CD set when it is sent out for bid. This phase results in the contractors’ final estimate of project costs

Deliverables: The construction document phase produces a set of drawings that include all pertinent information required for a contractor to price and build the project.

Bid or Negotiation Phase:

The first step of this phase is preparation of the bid documents to go out for public bid. The bid document set includes an advertisement for bids, instructions to bidders, the bid form, bid documents, the owner-contractor agreement, labor and material payment bond, and any other sections necessary for successful price bids. For some projects that have unique aspects or complex requirements, the owner will have a mandatory prebid meeting for potential contractors.

The owner, with the help of the vendor (if required), evaluates the bids and selects a winning bid. Deliverables: The final deliverable is a construction contract.

Construction Administration Phase “CA”:

Construction administration (CA) services are rendered at the owner’s discretion and should be outlined in the owner-vendor agreement. Different owner-vendor-contractor agreements require different levels of services on the vendor’s part. CA services begin with the initial contract for construction and terminate when the final certificate of payment is issued.

The vendor’s core responsibility during this phase is to help the contractor to build the project as specified in the CDs as approved by the owner. Questions may arise on site that require the vendor to develop sketches or respond to requests for information (RFIs). Different situations may require a Change Order to complete the project.

Deliverables: A successfully built and contracted project.
