N. Fire Alarm contractor is permitted to use a licensed subcontractor to perform the sprinkler and foam systems inspections according to RIUFC and NFPA 25 standards if necessary.

O. Special considerations must be made for the AASF foam fire protection system as only qualified and skilled technicians with documented knowledge and experience that are referenced in writing and submitted to the FMO prior to bid opening will have their quote considered and included for the bid.

P. All sprinkler systems shall be clearly tagged and an itemized inspection report given to the FMO.

Q. Wet Pipe Inspections include riser, tamper and flow inspections of nine wet risers.

R. Dry Pipe Inspection includes riser, tamper and flow of one dry riser along with a pre-action or mechanical trip test of the dry sprinkler.

DD. Contractor will be responsible for coordinating a tanker truck or other containment method onsite to properly dispose of used water/foam offsite and must have spill prevention measures and action plan in place.

EE. Qualified technicians are required to perform any inspection or test on the AASF foam system.

FF. Refer to NFPA-25 for all standards for the inspection, testing and maintenance of water-based fire protection systems; Chapter 11 covers foam-water sprinkler systems.

GG. The AASF water storage tank for the sprinkler system must be included as part of the fire sprinkler system inspection, testing, and maintenance along with the automatic tank fill valves and component action requirements mentioned in NFPA-25, Chapter 9.

HH. Use of a commercial diver or submersible robot to perform annual tank inspections will be required. Draining the tank to service it is not a viable option unless justifiable as absolutely necessary after an initial dive inspection.

NOTE: Sprinkler lines inside both hangers are pre-charged with water and 3% AFFF foam solution.

Important Information: The AASF water storage tank that directly feeds the AASF fire sprinkler system is a "Columbian TecTank" (32' diameter by 30' feet high) with a capacity of 192,254 gallons. The sprinkler lines leading to and inside the hangers have all been pre-charged with 3% AFFF foam solution. No sprinkler testing or flow tests can be done in the hangers without involving a tanker truck or other containment method to receive the water/foam discharge. When the AASF building was commissioned, the concept to pre-charge these lines was thought up as to have the foam solution come out instantly in the event of an activation, however, this is a design flaw when it comes to inspecting and maintaining the lines as it makes testing the system more difficult and time consuming.

TOURS OF THE JOB SITE: The site may be inspected Tuesday September 13, 2016 at the Mandatory pre-bid conference The Facilities Management Office [FMO] has fire alarm and sprinkler system plans on file to aide in the inspections. The full detail set of plans and designs of fire safety systems are located onsite at the AASF in print and on CD-ROM and will be made available to contractors during in-person site visits.

SAFETY: The areas where the work is to be preformed may be in use at all times, therefore the Contractor will protect the worksite to minimize any danger to pedestrians in the area.

WORKMANSHIP: All work shall be performed by qualified mechanics and/or licensed technicians of the trades involved. All work shall be neat, trim, straight, secured and finished in all details. Any work that damages existing infrastructure will be repaired at no additional cost to State or Federal Government. Person(s) or firm performing any testing and/or maintenance required by code shall be licensed as required by R.I.G.L. § 5-6-2.

GUARNTEE: The Contractor will guarantee all work for a period of 1 (one) year after acceptance.

NOTIFICATION: The Construction & Facilities Management Office (CFMO) shall be notified when work is to begin and shall be kept informed of the Contractor's work schedule.

APPROVAL of MATERIAL: Specifications or manufacture's cuts of material to be used on this project shall be submitted to the CFMO for approval prior to installation.

STATE BUILDING CODE: This project is subject to the rules and regulations of the Rhode Island Building Commissioner and is subject to inspection by that officer. The Contractor will obtain, if necessary a building permit for this work from the Building Commissioner's office. A copy of this permit will be forwarded to the CFMO. Refer to NFPA-25 for water-based fire protection system inspection standards.

STATE PROVISIONS: In addition to these provisions, the Office of Purchases may issue other instructions that must be followed.

MATERIALS: All materials to be incorporated into the project shall be furnished and installed new by the Contractor.

FINAL ACCEPTANCE: The Owner will inspect all work prior to final acceptance and note any deficiencies found so the Contractor can re-work them.
